

MANY DINNER GROUPS PARTICIPATE IN DANCING AT THE PASO DEL NORTE

A VERY large number of diners and dancers enjoyed the Thursday night dancing at the Hotel Paso del Norte. The dinner tables were arranged on the roof garden and the diners enjoyed the cool of the evening, the splendid view of the mountains in the distance and the lights of the city twinkling below. During the dinner, moving pictures were shown on the screen, and when the music proved stirring the diners left their tables and went into the ball room and danced. The largest party of the evening was that of the American Smelting and Refining company, which occupied a four table running a large part of the length of the roof garden. At this table were Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rustice, Mr. and Mrs.

To Keep Dust from Marring the Complexion

DRY AND DUSTY weather will ruin any complexion unless care is exercised to prevent a chronic harsh and dry condition of the skin.

The fine and tiny particles of dust enter the pores, and defy soap and water to remove them. The face becomes rough, hard and discolored from continued presence of dust.

There is one preparation that completely removes every trace of dust and grime from the skin, and leaves it clear, soft, fair, moist and flexible. That preparation is Mme. Is'bell's Turkish Bath Oil, which is used by society women, actresses and singers the world over as a substitute for soap and water.

If the neck is scrawny, with loose and sagging skin, as a result of too much scrubbing with the soap and water, use the Turkish Bath Oil, then apply Mme. Is'bell's Skin Food and Wrinkle Paste. It feeds and nourishes the skin, filling out and obliterating wrinkles.

Church Affairs

Circle Five, of the First Methodist church aid society, held an enjoyable picnic Thursday at Washington park. A business meeting of the circle was held early in the afternoon at the park, and the husbands of the members met them at the park and a picnic supper was served. The supper was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rullman, who leave soon for Washington, D. C. to spend the summer, about 40 people were present. Mrs. G. N. Thomas, Mrs. D. T. Winters and Mrs. C. H. Appleton were the committee in charge.

The Highland Park branch of the United Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. T. Fennell on Erie street. "Home missions" was the study of the day, and Mrs. Fennell, Mrs. J. H. Logan and Mrs. J. E. Blackhoff read papers on the various mission activities through the south, Oklahoma college, the Texas Mexico Industrial school and the mountain work among the poor whites of North Carolina. Mrs. J. E. Blackhoff conducted the meeting, and Mrs. J. H. Logan led the devotional exercises. Among those present were: Messrs. J. G. Lowman, J. H. Logan, V. B. Elfers, E. A. Dawson, Bula Hagdale and D. T. Fennell. With the continuing of the program, daily refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting of the circle will be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Blackhoff.

The officers and teachers of the First Baptist Sunday school will meet Friday night at the home of Mrs. C. O. Coffin, 1188 Upton avenue.

The Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church has placed an iron settee outside the church for the general use of the public, and particularly for people awaiting street cars.

HALE COUNTY HAS BIG HOG RANCHES

J. O. Crockett, of El Paso, President of Largest Porker Breeding Concern in State of Texas.

An El Paso man is president of the largest hog growing company in Texas. J. O. Crockett has just returned from Plainview, Texas, where he was selected to head the Hale County Trading company, the purpose of which is to breed and raise hogs for the Fort Worth market.

The company's ranches are in Hale county, near Plainview, and are divided into five ranches of 160 acres each and one 200 acre ranch. There are already 1600 hogs on these ranches and the newly organized company expects to produce 60,000 hogs each year. The two standard breeds and alfalfa will be the principal feed for them. Breeding pens, feed houses and stalfs, runways are being built now for the big hog ranches.

Hale county, Mr. Crockett says, is the largest hog producing county in the state and has topped the Fort Worth market 41 times this year with its porkers. Associated with Mr. Crockett is H. Miller, vice president of the Pearson interests in the southwest, and a number of other capitalists. An expert hog raiser has been employed to take charge of the ranches and these will be the headquarters for the entire Plainview country.

TORRENTIAL RAIN HALTS CEREMONIES

President Abbot's Speech at Monument to Confederate Dead Veterans of Washington, D. C., June 4.—Veterans of the blue and the gray, the president of the United States and a crowd of women and children were thoroughly drenched Thursday by a sudden torrential rain which descended on Arlington national cemetery while the president was delivering a speech at the unveiling of the monument to the Confederate dead.

The president cut short his address and there was a wild rush for automobiles and street cars.

Gen. Washington Gardner, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Gen. Bennett Young, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans, were notable figures among the speakers, and both were cheered with equal enthusiasm by veterans in gray and those in blue.

Col. Robert E. Lee, grandson of Gen. Lee, also spoke, while the sculptor, Sir Moses Ezekiel, a Confederate veteran who designed the monument, was present.

Master Paul Mico, a grandson of Col. Billy Caliber, pulled the cord which released the drape over the monument. The president said: "I am profoundly aware of the solemn significance of the thing which has now taken place. The daughters of the Confederacy have presented a memorial of their dead to the government of the United States. I hope that you have noted the history of the conception of this idea. It was proposed by a president of the United States who had himself been a distinguished officer in the Union army. It was authorized by an act of the congress of the United States. The cornerstone of the monument was laid by a president of the United States, elevated to his position by the votes of the party which had chiefly prized itself upon sustaining the war for the union. And now it has fallen to my lot to accept, in the name of the great government which I am privileged for the time to represent, this emblem of a reunited people. "I am not so much happy as proud to participate in this capacity on such an occasion; proud that I should represent such a people."

REV. SPIRITON TELLS TALE OF ABDUCTION FROM HOTEL.
Denver, Colo., June 5.—Rev. Otis L. Spurgeon, of Des Moines, Ia., was the principal witness Thursday at the trial of 19 men charged with abducting and robbing the minister following the delivery of a lecture in which he attacked the Roman Catholic clergy.

Rev. Spurgeon told the jury that he was forcibly taken from his hotel on the night of April 5, placed in an automobile, spirited out of the city, beaten and robbed of $15. He said a crowd of 200 or 400 was in the lobby and about the lobby when the 19 defendants entered his room and carried him away.

Kosciusko—"The Greatest of the Poles"

NEVER in the history of mankind has there lived a more ardent lover of Personal and National Liberty. He fought with intrepid valor under our own Washington for American Liberty. He devoted his life to regain the ancient freedom of his beloved Poland. Kosciusko hated any legislative attempt which invaded the Natural Rights of Man. If he were alive to-day, every son of Poland knows that he would revolt at any LAW which declared: "Thou shalt NOT eat this—thou shalt NOT drink that." Kosciusko knew that the light wines of his native land and the barley brews of Germany were good for mankind when used in moderation. He drank them himself to the end of his honored days, and who will DARE say that they in any way injured this mighty personality. For 57 years Anheuser-Busch have honestly brewed honest beers. Their great brand—BUDWEISER—is sold throughout the world and has helped the cause of true Temperance. Seven thousand, five hundred men are daily required to keep pace with the natural demand of Americans for BUDWEISER. Its sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles. Bottled only at the home plant.

Parties

Miss (Glen Adams) was the guest of honor Thursday afternoon at a charming little party given by Miss Emily Kemp at her home. The table was set with a variety of colored cloths, sweet peas of varied colors were used in profusion in the decoration, and the room was the scene of the highest of bridges. The winner of the highest score at each table was presented with a large vase of flowers. The winners were: Miss Laura and Miss Estelle Herrien, Miss Margaret Young and Miss Anne Lee. Miss Adams was presented with a handsome set of Haviland china after dinner coffee cups at the guest prize, and Miss Margaret Young received a dainty ribbon holder as the winner of the highest score of the afternoon. After the games were over, the guest of honor's card represented a miniature bride and groom. Among the guests were: Messrs. Lamm, Davis, William Walsh, Henry Raymond, Hugh White, Messrs. Glen Adams, Walker, McCallahan, Annette Schmitt, Hilda Sauer, Anne Lee, Charles Elmer, Madeline Bryan, Matthea, Sue Dixon, Madeline Bryan, Pauline Bryan, Margaret Young, Mary Leighton, Frances Mayfield, Louise Newker, Alice Wulff, Larmand Fink, Estelle Herrien and Marie Cloman.

Dinners and Luncheons

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Glascock, of 2800 Montana street, entertained recently with an old fashioned turkey dinner in honor of their guest, Mrs. Joe Beebe, of El Paso. The occasion was the anniversary of Mrs. Glascock's birthday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Connelley, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Poll, Mrs. Joe Beebe, Willie Poll and Jesse Mitchell Connelley.
